ALEX G. SPANOS

Chairman of Board/President

Alexander Gus Spanos, a self-made giant in the building industry, purchased majority interest in the San Diego Chargers Aug. 1, 1984.

When Spanos was offered the opportunity to purchase the club, he put the decision to a vote before the board of directors of the A.G. Spanos Companies.

"The vote was 10 to two not to buy the ball club," he recalls. But the chairman used his veto power to overrule: "I told them, 'When you turn 60 you'll understand.'

"I always believed in the pursuit of one's dreams," Spanos characteristically said in announcing his intention to buy the team. "For me, it has been a life-long goal to own an NFL team. In buying the San Diego Chargers, I've been able to realize a dream."

The dream became reality and, in 1992, so did the joy and exhiliration of the playoffs.

"It was the greatest feeling I've ever had in my career," said Spanos. "What I enjoyed most was watching the fans enjoy it.

"Now all of our efforts are directed to getting back to the playoffs ... getting back that feeling that sparked the team and the city. The city deserves it. Our fans deserve it. Bobby Beathard and Bobby Ross are very excited about what they were able to accomplish this offseason. And when they're excited, I'm excited."

Spanos has moved with strength and vision to put all the pieces together to form a solid foundation for success and build the Chargers into annual contenders for the AFC Western Division crown. The hiring of General Manager Bobby Beathard, one of the most respected football men in the National Football League, was hailed around the League. He has aggressively pursued and signed some of the top players in football. In 1994, he paid more in players' signing bonuses then all but one team. He has modernized and upgraded the team's football training camp facilities with the state-of-the-art Alex G. Spanos Athletic and Recreation Building at the Chargers' summer camp at the University of California at San Diego. An Astroturf field at the Chargers' in-season practice facility at San Diego Jack Murphy Stadium was installed. Spanos also has completely renovated the team's locker room facilities and front office at the Stadium.

Spanos' commitment to the NFL was recognized when NFL Commissioner Paul Tagliabue named him to the League's Expansion and Realignment Committee in 1991. He helped develop recommendations on expansion issues which greatly affected the future of pro football. He also serves on the league's Legislative Committee.

In 1993, the highly-respected Spanos is widely credited for using his influence with the NFL and its owners to land Super Bowl XXXII for the City of San Diego. The game, which will be played Jan. 25, 1998, in San Diego Jack Murphy Stadium, is projected to bring $150 million to the community.

In 1991, Spanos was invited by President George Bush to join him on a two-day goodwill trip to Greece and drew praise from the Chief Executive who singled him out as an American of Greek heritage who has achieved success in America. During the visit, President Bush addressed the Greek Parliament in Athens July 18, 1991, and credited Spanos with making "a tremendous imprint in our country." Bush also cited Spanos for his continued efforts to promote stronger ties between the two countries. Spanos and his wife, Faye, also hosted a formal dinner party for 250 Greek government, political, business and community leaders, which was attended by American Ambassador to Greece, Michael Sotirhos, and Greek Prime Minister Konstantinos Mitsotakis.

And when America needed a helping hand, Spanos was there to deliver. He spearheaded the most aggressive fundraising campaign during the Gulf War crisis and delivered the most successful fundraising event in the history of the United Service Organization. As National Chairman of the U.S.O.'s Golden Anniversary Salute Luncheon April 5, 1991, in Los Angeles, Spanos guided an effort which raised more than $4.5 million. Spanos personally arranged for and presented a check for $250,000 to the U.S.O. on behalf of the 28 NFL teams through NFL Charities. The contribution was the second-largest single grant ever by NFL Charities. The Luncheon was attended by President George Bush, former Presidents Ronald Reagan and Gerald Ford, Secretary of Defense Dick Cheney, General Colin Powell, and U.S.O.'s Ambassador of Goodwill, Bob Hope.

These moves demonstrate the commitment of a man who has carved a remarkable career in business and whose dedication to family and community has been an inspiring example for others.

Spanos was born September 28, 1923, in Stockton, California. He developed his tireless work ethic early, starting as an eight-year-old in his father's restaurant, rising before dawn to help prepare pastries before attending school. In 1951, Spanos borrowed $800, purchased a truck and set out on his own. He began his own catering business serving migrant farm workers in the San Joaquin Valley. Spanos later began investing in real estate and in 1960 formed the A.G. Spanos Construction Company.

Spanos is the founder and chairman of ten companies bearing his name, including A.G. Spanos Construction, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Properties, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Management, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Development, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Enterprises, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Realty, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Marketing, Inc.; AGS Financial Corporation; the A.G. Spanos Jet Center, and the A.G. Spanos Land Company.

In the last 33 years, he single-handedly built a construction empire stretching across the nation. The A.G. Spanos Companies build, market and manage multi-housing units in 15 states. Since 1960, the companies have overseen the construction of over 60,000 apartment units and over 2.5 million square feet of commercial property. Land development and the construction of master-planned communities are also part of the Spanos Companies' expertise.

Throughout his rags-to-riches life, Spanos always has treasured family and community above all else.

Though one of the nation's most productive corporate businesses, the A.G. Spanos organization continues as a family-run operation. Eldest son Dean serves as President of the Spanos corporate organization and Vice Chairman of AGS Financial and the Chargers. Son Michael manages the construction and development activities in the western and southeastern divisions of the company. Together, they are the driving force behind each business venture.

A son of Greek immigrants, Spanos' hard work and determination to succeed was recognized in 1986 as he was one of a select group of 80 Americans awarded the Ellis Island Medal of Honor by the Statue of Liberty-Ellis Island Foundation and the New York Statue of Liberty Commission. In a special ceremony on Ellis Island, the honorees were cited for being "outstanding American citizens who have distinguished themselves in their respective fields of endeavor, while preserving the values of their particular heritages."

Most recently Spanos' love for sports and the Olympic spirit paid off for the City of San Diego. He kicked off a fundraising telethon for the San Diego Olympic Training Center with a $100,000 pledge and challenge to the local community. His donation led to a successful effort to complete the first phase of the Southern California facility.

His Olympic spirit also will pay dividends for the 1996 Olympic Games. He recently was named Southern California Chairman of the United States Olympic Committee.

To support and bring attention to the City's effort to remain the year-round home of the United States Olympic volleyball team, Spanos hosted a dinner for the U.S. and Greek National volleyball teams during their World League season.

He also has been a strong supporter of high school sports in San Diego. Spanos annually has sponsored the CIF San Diego Section football championships, allowing the games to be played in San Diego Jack Murphy Stadium. His backing of the San Diego High School Sports Association and the San Diego County high school all-star football game led to the game being named the Alex Spanos High School All-Star Football Classic.

Spanos is Honorary Regent of the University of the Pacific and a Trustee of the Eisenhower Medical Center in Palm Springs. He has donated substantially to benefit critically ill youngsters at Childrens Hospital and Health Center in San Diego. He was awarded a Honorary Doctor of Laws Degree by the University of the Pacific on the same day he gave the commencement address to the 1984 graduating class. In 1985, Spanos was chairman of San Diego Childrens Hospital's first Miracle Network Telethon. In 1987, Spanos served as chairman of the San Diego County Easter Seals Telethon and was chairman of the Loaned Executive campaign during the annual United Way/CHAD drive in San Diego County. In 1989, Spanos received the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith's National Distinguished Community Service Award for devotion to community and concern for others.

Spanos also was the founder and driving force behind seven biennial fundraising "Evening of Elegance" dinners benefitting assorted children's charities including San Diego Childrens Hospital and Health Center. Proceeds from the last "Evening of Elegance" held in 1985 topped the one-million-dollar mark.

Another side to this complex man was revealed with the help of his close friend Bob Hope. Spanos displayed an entertainer's talent and flair when he lived a childhood dream and danced on stage. Together, Spanos and Hope sang and danced on numerous occasions both in the United States and abroad.

Spanos' acquisition of the Chargers culminated a lifelong interest and involvement in sports. He earned varsity letters in swimming and diving at the University of the Pacific in Stockton and later distinguished himself as an amateur golfer. Spanos was the first person ever to be on the winning teams in both the Bob Hope Desert Classic in Palm Desert (1977) and the Bob Hope British Pro-Am in Epsom, England (1980). In 1987 Spanos was inducted into the Stockton Athletic Hall of Fame.

Alex and Faye have four children — Dean, Dea (Mrs. Ron Berberian), Alexis (Mrs. Barry Ruhl), and Michael — and 12 grandchildren. They maintain residences in Stockton and Palm Springs, California, and Tarpon Springs, Florida.

DEAN SPANOS

Vice Chairman

Dean Spanos brought broad business and financial expertise to the Chargers when he moved to La Jolla, California, in 1984 after his father, Alex Spanos, purchased majority interest in the team. He oversees the day-to-day management and administration of personnel and fiscal matters of the Chargers. He also plays a prominent role in league affairs as he attends all league meetings and serves on the NFL Films Committee.

In addition to his role with the Chargers, he doubles as President of all Spanos corporate entities and Vice Chairman of the AGS Financial Corporation from his office in San Diego Jack Murphy Stadium. He is responsible for all construction operations nationwide and all financial matters relating to the acquisition and development of projects for the Spanos organization. For the past 23 years, Dean has been working alongside his father in apartment construction and land development.

Dean attended the University of the Pacific in Stockton, California, from which he received a degree in business administration in 1972. He maintains close ties with his alma mater, having served as a Regent at the University.

Dean's busy career in business and the National Football League hasn't hampered his status as one of the nation's most successful amateur golfers. An avid golfer since his college years, he has been on the winning team in four Pro-Am tournaments, including back-to-back wins in 1990 at the Bob Hope Chrysler Classic and the AT&T National Pro-Am at Pebble Beach where he teamed with partner Hubert Green. He also was on the winning team at the Hope Classic again in 1991. Spanos and Green won the Bing Crosby Pro-Am at Pebble Beach in 1985 where Dean was awarded the "Most Valuable Amateur" trophy for supplying the most help to his professional partner. Also in 1985, he was on the winning team in the Senior Players Reunion Pro-Am in Dallas with Billy Casper.

Dean Alexander Spanos was born May 26, 1950, in Stockton. He was an outstanding member of the Lincoln High School golf team in Stockton before continuing his golfing career at the University of the Pacific. Dean received the Lincoln High Hall of Fame Award which honors alumni whose contributions and accomplishments are representative of the school. He was recognized for his achievements in the areas of business and athletics.

Dean has become an integral part of the local community since moving San Diego. He is a member of the United Ways' Alexis de Tocqueville Society which is made up of the group's top supporters. He has been a major contributor and supporter of the American Cancer Society in San Diego. Dean also was co-chairman of the US WEST Cellular/San Diego Chargers Charity Classic benefitting Childrens Hospital in 1993. He now resides in La Jolla, California, with his wife, Susan, and sons, Alexander Gus (July 2, 1978) and John Dean (Nov. 7, 1979). Both A.G. and John are two-sport athletes at La Jolla Country Day School. A.G. plays football and basketball while John competes in basketball and baseball.

BOBBY BEATHARD

General Manager

32nd NFL Season
5th Season with Chargers

When Alex Spanos named Bobby Beathard general manager of the San Diego Chargers January 3, 1990, it brought hope to a city thirsting for a winner. Beathard brought a sparkling reputation and a history of building champions, including five Super Bowl participants and four world champions. He turned the NFL's oldest team of the 70's — the Washington Redskins — into one of the most successful organizations of the 80's. And in just his third season in San Diego he handed the organization and the city it's first AFC Western Division championship in more than a decade.

With a proven plan to follow, he immediately set out in 1990 to bring top athletes with a winning attitude to San Diego. A tireless and aggressive approach to the NFL draft is a Beathard trademark. Acting with the same vitality and decisiveness that highlights his 32 years as an NFL talent evaluator, his judgement was on the mark in 1990 when seven players from his first draft in San Diego ended up in the starting lineup, including 1992 NFL Defensive Player of the Year Junior Seau. Beathard made more strong moves in 1991 which allowed him to draft 14 players, including 12 who completed their rookie season with the Chargers and eight who saw regular-season action. Eleven of his 13 selections in 1992 finished the season with the Chargers, including seven who appeared on the roster during the regular season or playoffs. All nine of the team's 1993 draftees return to the squad in 1994.

Beathard also has been one of the NFL's most active and successful participants in signing veteran free agent talent. He landed immediate help for the Chargers when he arrived by signing Plan B free agent running back Ronnie Harmon and kicker John Carney. Two-time Most Valuable Player Harmon has proved to be a phenomenal talent both rushing and receiving while Carney solidified the kicking game. In 1991, Plan B brought starting left tackle Harry Swayne while the 1992 Plan B class added four players, including cornerback Sean Vanhorse.

Most recently in 1994, Beathard struck quickly with the signings of strong veterans to fill key areas of need. While other teams moved with uncertainty through this new era, Beathard landed such prominent starters defensive tackle Rueben Davis, cornerback Dwayne Harper, linebackers David Griggs and Dennis Gibson and wide receiver Vance Johnson.

Beathard's golden touch was clearly evident in the 1992 AFC Western Division Champion Chargers. Of the 59 players who finished the season with the team, 48 were acquired by Bobby since his arrival in 1990. Twenty-one of the 48 players were Beathard draft choices, four were acquired by trade, nine were Plan B free agent signings, nine were free agents and four were claimed on waivers.

Though success has followed him through every step of his NFL career, Beathard has remains one of League's most low-key and well-liked personalities. Representative of his modesty is the fact he owns five Championship rings, yet never wears or displays one.

Beathard has demonstrated a keen eye for talent since becoming a part-time scout with the Kansas City Chiefs in 1963. He left the Chiefs briefly to scout for the American Football League and returned to Kansas City full-time after the AFL-NFL merger in 1966 and earned his first championship ring as a member of the 1966 Chiefs' organization. Beathard then served as a scout for the Falcons, 1968-71.

In 1972, Beathard was named director of player personnel for the Miami Dolphins. The Dolphins won the following two Super Bowls. Then on February 24, 1978, the Redskins made Bobby their general manager and he ultimately showed the league that first-round draft picks were weapons to be used in trades. In his 11 years, the Redskins had only three first-round picks. They went to the Super Bowl three times and won twice.

Beathard's handiwork was apparent on all three Super Bowl teams, including the World Champion Redskins of 1982 whose roster included an astounding 27 free agents signed by Bobby since he joined the team in 1978. The 1983 squad, which finished 14-2, also made it to the Super Bowl. The Super Bowl XXII team that defeated Denver, 42-10, in San Diego, was led by players acquired through Beathard's respected eye for talent, including MVP Doug Williams and record-setting running back Timmy Smith.

Appropriately, Beathard's first selection as Washington's general manager, 1978 sixth-round returner Tony Green, made the Pro Bowl. The following year he signed linebackers Rich Milot, Monte Coleman and Neal Olkewicx, who played together for nine years.

Beathard left the Redskins to serve as a commentator for the National Broadcasting Company (NBC) on it's weekly "NFL '89" show during the 1989 season.

When Beathard joined the Chargers, he returned to the Southern California lifestyle in which he was raised. Born in Zanesville, Ohio, January 24, 1937, Robert Beathard, Jr., grew up in the Los Angeles area and attended El Segundo High. He moved on to Cal Poly-San Luis Obispo where he played quarterback, 1956-58, and led the 1957 and '58 teams to consecutive 9-1 records.

Bobby signed to play for the Redskins in 1959. He played in six preseason games for the Los Angeles Chargers in 1960 as a defensive back and was in the 1962 training camp of the Minnesota Vikings.

Bobby and his wife, Christine, reside in Encinitas, California. Beathard is an avid runner. He has run in dozens of marathons, including several Boston Marathons. He also enjoys surfing and cycling. Bobby has four children — Kurt (Jan. 4, 1963), currently an assistant coach at Towson State; Jeff (June 9, 1964), a twelfth-round choice of the Rams in 1988 who currently scouts for the Chargers; Casey (Dec. 2, 1965), and Jaime (Sept. 25, 1968) — and five grandchildren.

BOBBY ROSS

Head Coach
7th NFL Season
3rd Season with Chargers

On January 2, 1992, San Diego Chargers general manager Bobby Beathard announced the selection of former Georgia Tech head coach Bobby Ross to become the ninth head coach in team history. Ross, whose ability to turn around college programs was well-documented, would be put to the test as he tried to reverse the fortunes of the Chargers who were coming off a last-place, 4-12 finish in 1991. And as he had done so many times in his career, he supplied the leadership and experience which molded the Chargers into perenial playoff contenders.

Expectations for 1993 were at an all-time high following the miraculous '92 season which saw the Chargers earn their first division title in 12 years. Perhaps expectations were too high for this young, up-and-coming team. But Ross' squad battled through a host of injuries and held their own against the NFL's second-toughest schedule — including the toughest division in football, the AFC West — to win four of their final six games and finish with an 8-8 record.

Ross' brief tenure in San Diego has produced two of the most exciting and promising seasons in recent memory. Nineteen regular-season victories are the most by the Chargers in a two-year span since the 1980-81 seasons when the team won 21 games.

Ross' first season had an ominous beginning as starting quarterback John Friesz suffered a season-ending knee injury in the opening game of the preseason. Quick maneuvering landed quarterback Stan Humphries, but critics predicted trouble for the team which featured a new head coach, a new coaching staff and a roster made up of nearly one-third new faces, including a new quarterback.

The Chargers struggled early, but Ross kept a firm hand on the helm and continued to guide the Chargers without deviating from his original course. After four losses, Ross' motto of "perfect practices make perfect" began to take hold. Slowly a team whose confidence had been eroded by years of losing began to believe in itself.

Under Ross, the Chargers caught fire and quickly became the Cinderella story of 1992. The team won 11 of its final 12 regular-season games, its finest winning streak since 1961, and won the AFC Western Division title. Ross' squad continued its winning ways by shutting out Kansas City, 17-0, at home in the AFC Wild Card game.

San Diego improved immeasureably under the guidance of the NFL rookie head coach. The offense ranked sixth in the NFL in 1992, up from thirteenth in 1991, and made huge strides in the passing game which improved from twenty-fourth to seventh in the league. The defense jumped from nineteenth to fourth in the NFL, led by the AFC's top-ranked rushing defense. The team allowed 101 fewer points throughout the regular season.

Ross and the Chargers earned their niche in NFL history by doing something 132 teams previously could not do: start a season with four losses and have a winning record, yet make the playoffs. San Diego was only the third team in NFL history to lose its first four games and win its next four games.

The Chargers' accomplishments under Ross did not go unnoticed, earning the head coach a host of postseason honors. He was named NFL Coach of the Year by United Press International, Pro Football Weekly, Football News, Football Digest, Maxwell Football Club, Kansas City 101 Banquet and the Pro Football Writers Association.

Ross has coached college or pro football for 28 years. He was a college head coach 15 of 19 years prior to coming to San Diego, interrupted only by four seasons as an assistant with the Kansas City Chiefs (1978-81). Ross' overall 15-year record as a head coach at The Citadel, Maryland and Georgia Tech was 94-76-2 (.552).

Before reversing the fortunes of the Chargers, the 57-year-old Richmond, Virginia, native turned around the Georgia Tech program and carried it into the national spotlight. He inherited a down-trodden program which struggled through a 5-20 mark before Ross' teams won 18 of their next 20 games and a share of the national championship in 1990 with an 11-0-1 mark. It was the football program's first-ever national championship and conference title, and Ross was a consensus choice nationally for coach of the year. He culminated his career at Georgia Tech with a 31-26-1 record, including a 26-6-1 record over his final 33 games. He finished his five-year stint with an 8-5 record in 1991 and a big 18-17 come-from-behind victory over Stanford in the Aloha Bowl on Christmas Day.

In 1990, Ross directed Georgia Tech to the United Press International national championship as the nation's only unbeaten team at 11-0-1 following a convincing 45-21 win over Nebraska in the Florida Citrus Bowl. It was Tech's first appearance in a New Year's Day bowl game since 1966. Ross collected one of the biggest wins of his coaching career when Tech knocked off then-top-ranked Virginia, 41-38, in a nationally-televised thriller. The Yellow Jackets won their first Atlantic Coast Conference title in school history and their first national and conference championship of any kind since 1952. A consensus national Coach of the Year and the ACC Coach of the Year, Ross returned Tech to the glory days of Bobby Dodd as the number-one-ranked team by UPI, The Sporting News and Scripps Howard Publishing.

The success of 1990 was earmarked by the strong finish of the 1989 campaign. Tech won seven of its last eight games to post a 7-4 record — the Yellow Jackets' first winning season in four years — while decisively defeating a pair of bowl-bound teams in Clemson and Georgia. Georgia Tech dominated its foes down the stretch, outscoring the opposition, 123-55, in its last four games — all of them victories. The team finished the 1989 season ranked thirty-first nationally by The Sporting News.

The turnaround in 1989 of Tech's football fortunes was really foreshadowed by Ross' 1988 squad that, despite a 3-8 record, ranked fifteenth nationally in total defense and seventh in pass defense. The 1988 squad lost six games by a total of 32 points.

His first team at Georgia Tech nearly broke the school's all-time season passing record with 2,284 yards, the most yards by air for a Rambling Wreck squad since 1968.

Ross coached five successful seasons at the University of Maryland (1982-86) where his Terrapin teams were known for their explosive offenses that resulted in the unprecedented success in College Park. During that time, his Maryland teams compiled a sparkling 39-19-1 mark (.670) against what annually was one of the toughest schedules in Division I football. He guided Maryland to three ACC titles and four postseason bowl games during his autumns in College Park. Ross left Maryland to become only the eighth full-time head football coach in Georgia Tech history.

With an imaginative offense as its major characteristic, Ross' Maryland squads averaged 28.1 points per outing in his 59 games at the school. Maryland led the ACC in total offense in 1984 and '85, in passing offense in 1984 and '86 and in scoring offense in 1982, '84 and '85. His 1982 team averaged 32.1 points a game, the highest scoring team in the conference since 1972 and the third-highest scoring team in league history.

In his first season at College Park, Ross was named ACC Coach of the Year and District III Coach of the Year after the 1982 campaign that saw Maryland post an 8-4 record and earn a trip to the Aloha Bowl. That year he was also named National Coach of the Year by the Washington Touchdown Club.

His second Maryland squad in 1983 also recorded an 8-4 record and was chosen for the Florida Citrus Bowl. His 1984 squad posted a 9-3 mark, including a win over Tennessee in the Sun Bowl, and Ross' 1985 team also managed a 9-3 mark with a win over Syracuse in the Cherry Bowl.

The results of his successful program were electric in the Washington D.C. area, a region previously dominated by pro football interest. During his time in College Park, Maryland's attendance showed a marked increase, increasing by 8,225 fans in his first season and climbing over 20,000 per game to a school-record average of 51,546 in 1985.

Perhaps if there is any one game indicative of his all-out, never-say-die coaching style, it might be Maryland's thrilling, 42-40 win over nationally-ranked Miami in 1984. Making the greatest comeback in Division I history, Ross coached the Terps from a 31-0 halftime deficit to a last-second win over the Hurricanes in the Orange Bowl.

Ross' teams have played tough defense as well, leading the conference in scoring and rushing defense in 1982 and in total and rushing defense in 1985 while at Maryland. In 1988, Georgia Tech was the ACC's top team in pass defense and third in total defense.

Born Dec. 23, 1936, in Richmond, Virginia, Robert Joseph Ross was a three-sport letterman at Virginia Military Institute in football, basketball and baseball. He started at quarterback and defensive back for two seasons and served as captain of the team as a senior. Ross graduated from the Lexington, Virginia, school in 1959 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in English and History.

He credits his coach at VMI, John McKenna, with being the major influence on his coaching career. The retired coach and former Georgia Tech assistant athletic director knows Ross well.

"If all of the coaches in the country could be pooled for a draft," said McKenna on the day Ross was hired at Tech, "any school would do well to look at Bobby Ross closely and carefully. He's the best.

"You're talking about someone who went to a school where you could not lie, cheat or steal, and he lettered in three sports. He served in the military and he recruited and coached at very tough academic schools. He's an astute student of the game and he knows how to win, as a player and a coach. There's nobody better."

After a tour of duty in the U.S. Army as a First Lieutenant (1960-62) and four seasons of coaching on the prep level, he started his collegiate coaching at VMI in 1965. Ross then spent four seasons as an assistant at William and Mary (1967-70), one year at Rice (1971), and one year at Maryland (1972) before beginning his head coaching career at The Citadel in 1973.

Ross spent five seasons at The Citadel (1973-77) before leaving to become an assistant coach in the NFL under Marv Levy with the Kansas City Chiefs in 1978. He coached special teams and defense two seasons and offensive backs his final two seasons with the Chiefs. After four seasons (1978-81) with the Chiefs, Ross returned to the collegiate ranks as head coach at Maryland in 1982.

Ross' Maryland teams produced a number of outstanding all-America talents, including quarterbacks Boomer Esiason, Frank Reich and Stan Gelbaugh. He developed the school's two greatest all-time passers in Esiason and Gelbaugh, its all-time leading scorer in fullback Rick Badanjek, its all-time placekicking leader in Jess Atkinson and its all-time leading receiver in Greg Hill.

Standouts from Georgia Tech include linebacker Marco Coleman, safety Ken Swilling, and quarterback Shawn Jones.

Ross is known for sharing a uniquely personal relationship with his players. During practice he's involved in all facets of the game. He enjoys teaching and usually can be found in the huddle with his team.

"I always take the approach with my players that I want to treat them with the same respect that I would give to my (five) children," Ross said when he joined the Chargers. "I'm straight-forward. I think I'm a good communicator. I know how to look a person in the eye, eyeball-to-eyeball, and say what's on my mind. And I would expect the same from our players.

"I consider myself demanding of everyone," he continued, "starting with myself on down to the assistants and players. That doesn't mean I holler and scream and make players run extra laps. If discipline is detail and doing things right, then we're going to have a lot of that because that's what I believe in. If we don't do something right in practice, then we're going to repeat it. That doesn't mean we're going to have four-hour practices. Practice doesn't make perfect. Perfect practices make perfect."

Ross and his wife, Alice, have five children — sons Chris, Kevin and Robbie and daughters Mary and Teresa — and six grandchildren. Chris (Air Force Academy - '84), Mary (Maryland - '85), Teresa (Loyola of Baltimore - '87), and Kevin (Naval Academy - '88) are college graduates while Robbie is attending Georgia Tech. Both Bobby and Alice are very involved with the Child Abuse Prevention Foundation. They reside in the Scripps Ranch district of San Diego.

"There are so many things that led us to Bobby Ross. You never hear anything bad (about him). You talk to players around the NFL who played for him and they loved playing for the guy. He's a tough, demanding coach, but at the same time, a fair guy. He's not going to ask them to do anything he wouldn't do himself. There's nothing selfish about him. There's no ego involved in Bobby Ross. People seem to respond to his kind of coaching. He's going to win by getting absolutely the most out of his players. He's very decisive. He knows what he wants. He's a head football coach and he's a coaching football coach. Things are going to get done the right way. Bobby's mission is to win. He's just been a winner wherever he's gone. He's gone into tough situations and turned them around. He's taken programs that were floundering and made them champions."

COACHING STAFF

BILL ARNSPARGER

Defensive Coordinator
23rd NFL Season
3rd Season with Chargers

Bill Arnsparger returned to the NFL Jan. 13, 1992, as the Chargers' defensive coordinator after eight years in collegiate athletics. He is in the midst of his 39th year of coaching and his third with the Chargers.

The Chargers led the NFL in 1993 with a plus-15 turnover ratio and finished fifth with 22 interceptions. His defense allowed a league-low 3.2 yards per rushing attempt and just 82.1 yards rushing a game to rank second in the NFL. In his two seasons as defensive coordinator the Chargers have allowed only 100-yard rushers, a league low.

In 1992, the Chargers finished with the number-two ranked defense in the AFC and ranked fourth in the NFL, allowing just 264.2 yards a game after finishing nineteenth overall in 1991. It was the team's highest overall defensive ranking since the AFL-NFL merger in 1970. His defense allowed an AFC-low 87.2-yards rushing a game. But more importantly, Arnsparger's defense held its opponents to 241 points, 101 fewer than in 1991.

"Bill is one of the finest defensive minds in all of football," said Ross. "He has an uncanny ability to get people in the right place based on alignments, personnel and formations. That's half the game."

General Manager Bobby Beathard said: "I think it's a real opportunity for the rest of the coaching staff just to be able to work with him."

Arnsparger, 67, began his NFL career in 1964 with the Baltimore Colts where he coached until 1970 when he joined Don Shula's staff in Miami. Arnsparger left the Dolphins in 1974 to become head coach of the New York Giants, a post he held until mid-way through the 1976 season when he rejoined Shula in Miami.

Arnsparger was the architect of the Dolphins' "No-Name Defense" in the early 1970s, and later developed the "Killer B's" defense in the early '80s. His defenses ranked either first or second in the NFL for fewest points allowed in nine of his 11 full seasons with Miami, including his final year with the Dolphins (1983) when they allowed an NFL-low 15.6-points a game. He has coached in five Super Bowls, including Super Bowl VIII in which he received a game ball after his defense allowed only 150 points in the 1973 season.

In 1984, Arnsparger left the NFL to become head coach at Louisiana State University where he guided the Tigers to one conference championship, two Sugar Bowl appearances and a Liberty Bowl berth in three years (1984-86).

He held the position as Director of Athletics at the University of Florida for five years (1987-91). Arnsparger's leadership at Florida placed a premium on academics as well as athletics. The 156 student-athletes at Florida who earned all-academic honors from 1989-91 is the best three-year total in school history. Florida's combined men's and women's program ranked among the ten most successful in the nation in each of Arnsparger's first four years, according to USA Today. He left the University mid-way through his fifth year to join the Chargers' staff.

Arnsparger began his coaching career at his alma mater, Miami of Ohio, in 1950. He then served as an assistant at Ohio State (1951-53), Kentucky (1954-61) and Tulane (1962-63) before coming to the Colts in the NFL.

William Stephen Arnsparger was born Dec. 16, 1926, in Paris, Kentucky, and attended the University of Kentucky and, after a stint in the Marine Corps, transferred to Miami of Ohio where he obtained a degree in education and a Master's in school administration. Bill and his wife, Betty Jane (B.J.), have a son, David (Aug. 6, 1965), and a daughter, Mary Susan (Feb. 29, 1968). David currently is a coach at Northeast Louisiana. The past two offseasons Arnsparger has taught football at clinics in Switzerland. Bill and B.J. reside in the Rancho Bernardo area of San Diego.

RALPH FRIEDGEN

Offensive Coordinator
3rd NFL Season
3rd Season with Chargers

Bobby Ross named Friedgen the Chargers' first offensive coordinator since 1991 on January 28 of this year.

Friedgen, who brought 23 years of collegiate coaching experience to the Chargers when he joined the team Jan. 11, 1992, spent the previous two seasons as coordinator of the running game and coached the tight ends and H-backs. This is his eighteenth season in which he has coached alongside Ross, including five seasons each at The Citadel (1973-77), Maryland (1982-86) and Georgia Tech (1987-91).

While at Georgia Tech, Friedgen (pronounced "FREE-gin") served as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach and was in complete charge of the offense, including play-calling. In 1990, he directed a Tech offense that was the highest scoring team in school history during the modern era, averaging over 30 points and almost 400 yards per game. Five of Tech's offensive players earned all-Atlantic Coast Conference recognition, including quarterback Shawn Jones, who is among Tech's all-time passing leaders after just two seasons.

Friedgen, 47, also was the offensive coordinator and line coach under Ross at Maryland. Friedgen has been credited with much of the Terrapins' offensive firepower which produced more than 28 points per game and helped Maryland win three Atlantic Coast Conference titles and play in four bowl games.

He spent the first three seasons at The Citadel as defensive line coach under Ross before becoming the offensive coordinator and line coach.

When Ross jumped to the NFL in 1978, Friedgen stayed at The Citadel through the 1979 season before going to William & Mary (1980), where he also was offensive coordinator, and then on to Murray State (1981), where he was the team's assistant head coach. He rejoined Ross in 1982 at Maryland.

Ralph Harry Friedgen was born April 4, 1947, in Harrison, New York. He played quarterback and linebacker for Harrison High Huskies in Harrison. He is a 1969 graduate of Maryland and was named academic all-ACC in 1967-68 as a guard. Ralph was graduated with a degree in Physical Education. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant under Roy Lester at Maryland in 1969 while earning a Master's degree in Psychology of Sports. Ralph and his wife, Gloria, have three children, Kelley (April 10, 1977), and Kristina (March 19, 1986), and Katharine (Feb. 21, 1988). The Friedgen's reside in Poway.

SYLVESTER CROOM

Offensive Backs
8th NFL Season
3rd Season with Chargers

Croom is in his eighth season of coaching NFL running backs. He joined the Chargers Jan. 7, 1992, after serving as running backs coach of the Indianapolis Colts in 1991. He coached the same position four seasons, 1987-90, for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

In 1993, Croom's runners made a league-low two fumbles while finishing third in the AFC with a 4.0-yard average. Twice the ground game produced more than 200 yards, including a season-high 247 yards versus Miami.

Before joining the Bucs, "Sly" spent 10 seasons with Alabama where he served as linebackers coach. He coached both outside linebackers, 1977-81 and 1984-86, and inside linebackers, 1982-83. Alabama won back-to-back national titles in 1978-79. He tutored four players who were NFL first-round draft choices — E.J. Junior (1981),

Mike Pitts (1983), Cornelius Bennett (1987) and Derrick Thomas (1989). During Croom's tenure, Alabama led the Southeastern Conference in total defense two seasons, 1979-80. He began with the Crimson Tide as a graduate assistant coach in 1975-76.

As a 6-0, 235-pound center, Croom helped lead the Crimson Tide to three consecutive SEC Championships. A three-year letterman for Paul "Bear" Bryant, Croom was named Kodak all-America and first-team all-SEC as a senior in 1974. He also earned the Jacobs Award as the best down lineman in the conference. Alabama compiled a 32-4 record during Croom's three years as a starter and was named national champion in 1973 by UPI. He began his career at Alabama as a linebacker, then switched to tight end and tackle and finally to center.

He continued his playing career one season in the NFL when he signed as a free agent in 1975 with the New Orleans Saints.

Croom received a bachelor's degree in history with a minor in biology from Alabama in 1975. He earned his Master's degree in educational administration two years later at Alabama.

Sylvester Croom Jr. was born on September 25, 1954, in Tuscaloosa, Alabama. He played linebacker and tight end for the Tuscaloosa High Black Bears. Sly and his wife, Jeri, have a daughter, Jennifer (Dec. 13, 1972), who's attending Alabama. The Crooms reside in the Rancho Bernardo area of San Diego.

He landed in the World Football League in 1975 with the Portland Storm before he spent two seasons (1977-78) as the head coach at Warren Central High in Bowling Green, Ky.

His coaching career took him into his fourth professional league when the United States Football League kicked off in 1983. He coached linebackers for the Boston Breakers (1983) and was the defensive coordinator for the New Jersey Generals (1984-85). Lindsey returned to the National Football League in 1986 and served as the Green Bay Packers' linebackers coach through the 1987 season before following head coach Forrest Gregg to Southern Methodist University in 1988 where he served as defensive coordinator, 1988-89. The NFL called once again, and Lindsey spent the 1990 season as the defensive line coach of the New England Patriots. He coached the linebackers for the Buccaneers in Tampa Bay in 1991 before joining the Chargers.

Phillip Dale Lindsey was born Jan. 18, 1943, in Bedford, Indiana, and grew up in Bowling Green, Kentucky. He participated in football, basketball and track at Bowling Green High. He was a first-team Little all-America selection as a senior linebacker at Western Kentucky and was twice named all-Ohio Valley Conference. Dale and his wife, Eva, have five children — Blan (Sept. 6, 1963), Jennifer (March 6, 1965), Kim (July 19, 1967), Johnny (Sept. 25, 1973), and Derek (May 29, 1975) — and reside in the Rancho Bernardo district of San Diego.

CARL MAUCK

Offensive Line
24th NFL Season
7th Season with Chargers

Mauck began his second stint with the Chargers Jan. 11, 1992. San Diegans may best remember him for his four-year stand as the team's starting center, 1971-74. Mauck's NFL playing career spanned 13 seasons (1969-81) and now he is in his eleventh season as an assistant coach in the NFL. Most recently, Mauck served as the offensive line coach at Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 1991 after two years in the lumber business in Missouri (1989-90).

Mauck's 1993 line finished sixth in the NFL for fewest sacks per pass play and allowed two or fewer sacks in nine games last season. The line paved the way for a season-high 247 rushing yards at Indianapolis and produced seven games of more than 100 yards.

Mauck (pronounced "Mock"), jumped to the coaching ranks immediately after retiring as a player in 1982. His former head coach, Bum Phillips in Houston, named him to his coaching staff in New Orleans in 1982. After four years (1982-85) as the Saints' offensive line coach, Mauck spent three seasons coaching the offensive line of the Kansas City Chiefs (1986-88).

During his 13-year playing career, Mauck started 155 consecutive games and played in 156 straight contests at center. He was a thirteenth-round draft choice of the Baltimore Colts in 1969. After one season with the Colts, he played in Miami in 1970 before being traded to the Chargers in 1971 for tackle Tony Liscio and a draft choice. Mauck started four seasons for the Chargers, 1971-74, before being traded to Houston for guard Booker Brown and the right to cornerback Benny Johnson. He was the Oilers' starting center until his retirement after the 1981 season. Mauck earned UPI and Associated Press all-Pro honors following the 1979 season. He anchored an offensive line which opened holes for Hall of Fame running back Earl Campbell and also started in seven playoff games.

Carl Frey Mauck was born July 7, 1947, in McLeansboro, Illinois, where he graduated from Township High. He continued his athletic career at Southern Illinois University where he played both linebacker and center. He also played basketball as a freshman alongside former NBA great Walt Frazier. Mauck was graduated with honors in 1969, earning a degree in business management, and is enshrined in the Southern Illinois University Sports Hall of Fame. Carl and his wife, Vicki, have four children — Tim (Aug. 24, 1972), Chrissy (Aug. 10, 1974); Teresa (Nov. 11, 1976), and Cathy (Feb. 8, 1980) — and reside in San Clemente, California.

JOHN MISCIAGNA

Quality Control
3rd NFL Season
3rd Season with Chargers

On Jan. 6, 1992, Misciagna became the first assistant coach named to Bobby Ross' staff. The 38-year-old New York native breaks down game tape of both the Chargers and their opponents and supplies computer analysis for the staff's game-plan preparation.

Misciagna (Mi-SHAG-nuh) first joined Ross in 1982. He had worked at Maryland since 1979 when he was a graduate assistant working with wide receivers. When Ross became Maryland's head coach in 1982, Misciagna became recruiting coordinator and continued those duties under head coach John Krivak in 1988. He returned to Ross' staff at Georgia Tech in 1989 as Director of Recruiting and as a volunteer assistant coach. Misciagna served the 1991 season as Director of Football Operations at Georgia Tech.

He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant offensive line coach at Indiana University of Pennsylvania (1976-77) and as a graduate assistant coach for wide receivers and defensive backs at Columbia (1977-79).

John William Misciagna was born Dec. 11, 1955, in Brooklyn, New York. He participated in football and track for the Poly Prep Blue Devils in Brooklyn before becoming an all-conference guard in football and captain of both the football and track teams at Dickinson College in Carlisle, Pennsylvania. He earned a bachelor's degree in English and Comparative Literature in 1976 from Dickinson before earning a master's degree in English at Columbia in 1978. John is single and resides in the Tierrasanta district of San Diego.

1994 PLAYING RULES CHANGES

At its annual meeting the NFL took significant measures to strengthen offensive football for 1994. After in-depth study by special meetings of head coaches and the Competition Committee, member clubs adopted several new playing rules. In addition, longstanding policies affecting offensive production were re-emphasized and refined.

* Chucking Rules. The policy which governs chucking and other contact by defensive players with offenisive receivers will be strictly enforced. Evidence showed that receivers were being unfairly restricted both within the five-yard chucking zone and farther downfield.

* Roughing-the-Passer Rules. Like the chucking rules, roughing the passer has been re-defined and will be strictly enforced. Officials will emphasize fouls when defensive players unnecessarily punish a passer (e.g., stuffing him into the ground or driving him down after he has thrown the ball). Formerly the defender was given one step after the passer completed his throwing motion (often with the arm far forward or at his waist). That will be changed to after the pass is released.

* Coach-to-Quaterback Radio. Coaching staffs will send in offensive plays to the quarterback by a radio equipped with a scrambling device. These benefits will result for the offensive team: 1) uniformly easy-to-understand signals, 2) signals secure from eavesdropping or other observation, 3) ease of communication when the ball is at an extreme end of the field, 4) better time management between plays, 5) better understanding by quarterback in noisy environments.

* Deeper Alignment for Offensive Lineman. Offensive linemen now may line up deeper off the ball, provided their helmets pass through an imaginary plane at the center's beltline (formerly the numeral on his jersey). This will promote better protection against pass rushers and allow linemen to easily see the snap of the ball (particularly helpful when crowd noise is high).

* Restrictions on Defensive Players. If a defensive player enters the neutral zone and causes the offense to move, a foul will be called on the defense (formerly an offensive foul and only a warning to defense).

* Kickoff from 30. The kickoff spot will be moved back to the 30-yard line, and a tee no higher than one inch may be used. Although this should produce more kickoff returns, often a highly exciting play, the main benefit will be better field position for the offense.

* Two-Point Conversion. After a touchdown the ball will be placed on the two-yard line and offensive teams will have the choice of kicking for one point, or running or passing for two. The possibility of an "eight-point touchdown" will help teams behind to catch up.

* Spot of Missed Field Goals. Missed field goals attempted from beyond the 20-yard line will be brought back to the spot of the kick (formerly the line of scrimmage). It is expected that this approximately seven-yard difference will affect coaching strategy and keep the emphasis on first downs and touchdowns.

NFL Terminology

The term "Rookie" is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters.

Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either preseason training camp or being on a club's active or reserve-list roster for fewer than six regular-season or postseason games, are termed "First-Year" Players. A first-year player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player on an NFL roster for at least six regular-season or postseason games is credited with an additional year of NFL playing experience.

at San Diego 18, Seattle 12
Sunday, Sept. 5

The Chargers used a club-record six field goals by John Carney to win their first season opener since 1986, an 18-12 win over the Seahawks in front of the team's largest crowd for a home opener (58,039). Seattle jumped on top early when Joe Nash intercepted a deflected pass and rumbled 13 yards for a touchdown on the game's opening series. San Diego was intercepted again on their next possession, but the defense held. The Chargers then turned their next four drives into scores, setting up Carney to kick field goals from 26, 44, 50 and 32 yards. Carney hit two more field goals (51 and 19 yards) in the fourth period to finish the scoring. San Diego controled the ball and clock with a powerful ground game which accumulated 160 yards. Marion Butts led the charge with 87 yards on 15 carries before leaving the game early in the second half with a thigh injury. The Chargers were forced to punt just once. The defense was impressive, holding the Seahawks to 230 yards total offense and allowing just one third-down conversion in 10 attempts. Chris Mims had 1.5 sacks while Leslie O'Neal and Shawn Lee added one. Nate Lewis sustained a quad injury.

Sunday, Sept. 12

Down 17-0 at the half in Denver, San Diego pulled close with two quick touchdowns in the third period. But the Broncos pulled away in the second half and defeated the Chargers, 34-17. After the Broncos took a 17-0 lead, helped by a San Diego fumble on its own 12-yard line, the Chargers' defense turned up the heat by forcing two Denver turnovers. Cornerback Marquez Pope intercepted a John Elway pass on the Broncos' first possession of the third quarter and the Chargers' offense went 47 yards in eight plays for the first San Diego score. On the next Denver possession, Pope forced a fumble and Darrien Gordon recovered on the Broncos' 33-yard line. San Diego tightened the score, 17-14, four plays later. The team threw 55 passes, the most since Oct. 19, 1986, when it threw 65 attempts, and completed 31. Stan Humphries set career highs with 28 completions and 49 attempts for 298 yards. Each team had one fumble and one interception. Ronnie Harmon and Nate Lewis set career highs also with 10 catches each, marking the first time in team history two players have hit double digits in catches in same game.

at San Diego 18, Houston 17
Sunday, Sept. 19

For the second time in three weeks, the Chargers used six John Carney field goals to improve their record to 2-1 with an 18-17 win over the Houston Oilers. Carney extened his streak of consecutive field goals to 29, destroying the NFL record of 25 set and ended just the week before by Morten Anderson of the Saints. San Diego held a 9-0 lead in the second quarter with the help of an interception and fumble recovery by Darren Carrington and another interception by Junior Seau. Houston took a 14-9 halftime lead after scoring on an 80-yard drive and a 47-yard interception return. In the second half another Seau interception led to another Carney field goal. With Houston ahead, 17-15, with 4:59 remaining in the game, John Friesz marched the team 75 yards in 13 plays and Carney kicked a final 27-yard field goal with :03 left on the clock to win the game. The Chargers' defense intercepted Warren Moon four times and forced a fumble. Seau intercepted two passes, knocked down two others and led the team with seven tackles. Leslie O'Neal notched a sack for the seventh game in a row. Stan Humphries was replaced by Friesz in the third period.

at Seattle 31, San Diego 14
Sunday, Oct. 3

The Chargers suffered a lopsided, 31-14 defeat in Seattle. Seattle quarterback Rick Mirer led the Seahawks on a 10-play, 81-yard drive to a touchdown on the game's opening series. San Diego moved into position for a 48-yard field goal attempt on its first possession, but John Carney's attempt for 30 in a row sailed wide right. The Chargers tied the game with a six-play, 65-yard drive of their own in which Ronnie Harmon supplied a 19-yard run and a 31-yard catch and run. Momentum seemed clearly on the Chargers' side when San Diego recovered a fumble on the ensuing kickoff, but an offsides penalty gave the ball back to the Seahawks. San Diego lost steam in the second quarter following two interceptions and Seattle took a 17-7 lead at halftime. The second half was all Seattle as it jumped out to a 31-7 lead late in the fourth period before San Diego scored again behind quarterback John Friesz. San Diego's running game averaged 4.7 yards a carry on the way to gaining 94 yards. Anthony Miller caught a career-high 10 passes for 123 yards and a touchdown. Friesz relieved Stan Humphries for the third game in a row.

GAME 5
at Pittsburgh 16, San Diego 3
Sunday, Oct. 10

The Chargers were held to 138 total yards, including 19 yards rushing, while losing to the Steelers in Pittsburgh, 16-3. Two fumbles and an interception led to 10 points for the Steelers. The defense did not allow a touchdown in the hard-fought battle but also did not force a turnover. Pittsburgh scored on its third and fifth drives of the half, connecting on 37 and 34-yard field goals. San Diego was forced to punt following its first five possessions, but marched 50 yards in 11 plays on the final drive of the half and John Carney hit a 33-yard field goal to tighten the score at halftime, 6-3. The defense forced the Steelers to punt to open the third period and rookie Darrien Gordon returned the kick 38 yards to the Pittsburgh 41-yard line. John Friesz moved the team down the field, converted a critical fourth-and-one play and had a first-and-goal on the eight-yard line. But Friesz was hit while releasing the ball and was intercepted. He received a mild concussion on the play and did not return. With Stan Humphries at quarterback in SAn San Diego's next series, Pittsburgh welcomed him to the game by sacking him and forcing a fumble which was scooped up by Steelers' linebacker Levon Kirkland and returned 16 yards for the only touchdown of the game. Pittsburgh added a 35-yard field goal in the fourth period to ice the game. Friesz made his first start since the final game of the 1991 season. Kent Sullivan punted for an injured John Kidd and averaged 44.0 yards on seven punts. Gordon added 38 and 36-yard punt returns.

The Chiefs drove 80 yards in nine plays and scored the deciding touchdown with 1:57 left in the game to defeat San Diego, 17-1, in front of the second-largest home crowd in team history (60,729). After each team was forced to punt folowing its first series, the Chargers took a shot at the big play and John Friesz connected with Anthony Miller on an 89-yard score. But the touchdown was nullified by a holding penalty. After San Diego was held on downs, the Chiefs drove 64 yards in four plays and took a 7-0 lead. Natrone Means scored his first NFL touchdown to tie the score, 7-7, on a seven-yard run. Kansas City took a 10-7 lead at the half after intercepting an errant pass and kicking a 37-yard field goal. Darrien Gordon set up San Diego's go-ahead score with a 54-yard punt return to the Chiefs' three-yard line. Friesz hit Miller on a four-yard toss for the score. San Diego appeared destined to put the game away after marching 67 yards to the Chiefs' 13-yard line while taking nearly six minutes off the clock. But for the second time in the half, the Chiefs blocked a Chargers' field goal attempt. Kansas City took possession with 3:27 left in the game and need just 1:30 to march 80 yards for the winning score.

Sunday, Oct. 31

The Chargers turned in an uplifting, 30-23 win over the Raiders in Los Angeles. San Diego got off to a shaky start as the Raiders struck quickly with a 71-yard touchdown pass on their first offensive play. But the Chargers responded with an impressive 78-yard drive in nine plays and scored on a 29-yard pass from John Friesz to Anthony Miller. The teams traded field goals and went into the locker room at halftime tied, 10-10. Los Angeles jumped out again to start the second half, going 81 yards in seven plays to take a 17-10 lead. But San Diego marched right back and tied the game with an 80-yard scoring drive of its own. With the game knotted at 17-17, Donald Frank produced the play of the game when he intercepted a pass two yards deep in the end zone and returned it 102 yards for a touchdown. It was the second longest interception return for a touchdown in team history and tied with five others for the third longest in the NFL history. Gary Plummer intercepted a pass on the Raiders' next possession and John Carney kicked a 36-yard field goal to take a 27-17 lead. After the Raiders tightened the score, 27-20, with 10 minutes left in the game, the Chargers' offense strung together 15 plays and ran more than eight minutes off the clock. The teams traded field goals and went into the locker room at halftime with San Diego ahead, 10-3. total offense, the most since San Diego had 434 yards versus Denver Oct. 25, 1992. Friesz also had his best day of the season to date, hitting 20 of 32 passes for 268 yards and two touchdowns. Means piled up 105 yards rushing and a touchdown on 17 carries, both career highs. He rushed 15 times for 90 yards in the second half. GAME 9

Chicago 16, at San Diego 13
Sunday, Nov. 14

The Chargers scored the first 10 points of the game but couldn't put the Bears away as Chicago fought back to defeat San Diego, 16-13, in front of a national Sunday night audience. San Diego's field goal unit was busy on the night. John Carney hit a 28-yard field goal on the team's first drive, then had a 30-yard effort blocked on the second possession. On the team's third possesion, the unit lined up again, but holder John Kidd ran it in from two yards out on a fake for the Chargers' only touchdown of the day. With San Diego up, 10-0, Bears' kicker Kevin Butler hit field goal tries from 33 and 54 yards to tighten the score at halftime, 10-6. Chicago gained just 59 yards in the first half. Butler hit again from 20-yards on the Bears' first possession of the third period. The Chargers' offense stalled again and Chicago took advantage by scoring on their next possession with a 38-yard touchdown pass from Jim Harbaugh to Curtis Conway. San Diego put together two impressive drives in the final period, setting up Carney for a 26-yard field goal on one series and a 40-yard attempt on the team's final drive. The 40-yard kick was wide left.

L.A. Raiders 12, at San Diego 7
Sunday, Nov. 21

The Chargers managed just 154 total net yards while surrendering 421 yards to the Raiders in a 12-7 defeat. The Raiders' offense was on the field for 41:48 but was kept out of the end zone. Los Angeles got four field goals before the Chargers scored its only points with 1:53 left in the game. Stan Humphries replaced Friesz in the second half and hit eight of 12 passes for 84 yards, one touchdown and one interception (on the last play of the game). GAME 11

San Diego 31, at Indianapolis 0
Monday, Nov. 29

The Chargers put together their best complete game of the season to date with a 31-0 shutout victory over the Colts in Indianapolis on Monday night. The offense produced season highs in points (31), yards (474), rushing yards (247), first downs (31) and time of possession (35:02). It was the most yards rushing by the Chargers since they gained 263 yards versus the Raiders Nov. 20, 1977. It was the most total yards in a game since Oct. 19, 1986, when the team gained 512 yards. The defense held the opponent scoreless for the first time since Game 8 last season when San Diego defeated the same Colts, 26-0. The Chargers also forced three turnovers and did not turn the ball over themselves. San Diego took a 14-0 lead at the half on Stan Humphries touchdown passes to Shawn Jefferson (39 yards) and Nate Lewis (eight yards). It marked the first game this season that the Chargers scored two first-half touchdowns. The team continued to roll in the second half, helped by two fumble recoveries which led to touchdowns.

GAME 12

at San Diego 13, Denver 10
Sunday, Dec. 5

John Carney hit a 34-yard field goal with :03 remaining to give the Chargers a 13-10 victory at home. San Diego overcame a 10-0 deficit at the half and Stan Humphries led the team on a 12-play, 80-yard drive with 2:54 left in the game to set up Carney's kick. It was Humphries second start since recovering from a shoulder injury and the team's second victory in a row. The Chargers' defense did allow a Denver touchdown, surrendering only a 30-yard field goal in the first quarter and stopping Denver on their own one-yard line to force another field goal attempt. But the Broncos faked the kick and tossed a one-yard touchdown pass to take a 10-0 lead at the half. San Diego halted itself in the first half, committing eight penalties including one that nullified a touchdown pass from Humphries to Nate Lewis. Safety Darren Carrington intercepted a pass on the first play of the third quarter to set up a 27-yard Carney field goal and Natrone Means scored a touchdown from one-yard out to tie the score. San Diego's defense allowed just 224 total yards, including just 86 yards rushing. It was the tenth time it has allowed less than 100-yards rushing this season. The Broncos' third-ranked passing game, which was averaging 248.6 yards a game, was held to 138 yards.

GAME 13

Green Bay 20, at San Diego 13
Sunday, Dec. 12

The Chargers were hurt by three interceptions and eight penalties while falling to the Green Bay Packers in San Diego, 20-13. The Chargers could not get their potent rushing attack going and were limited to 57 yards on the ground. They outgained the Packers in total yardage, 282 yards to 227 yards, but couldn't hit the big play, including two unsuccessful fourth-down attempts. After Green Bay took a 7-0 lead in the first quarter, John Carney and the Packers traded two field goals apiece and the score was 13-6 at the half. San Diego's offense came alive in the second half. The Chargers strung together 11 plays in their first series, but came away without any points. The Packers took a 20-6 lead with a touchdown on their opening drive of the second half. But San Diego fought back. After Nate Lewis returned a kickoff 46 yards, the team went 51 yards in nine plays and Stan Humphries connected with Lewis on an 11-yard touchdown pass to tighten the score, 20-13, late in the third period. San Diego was shut down on its final three drives, two by interceptions. Humphries threw a career-high 51 passes.

Monday, Dec. 27

The Chargers exploded with a 45-20 victory over the Miami Dolphins in San Diego, exacting revenge for a 31-0 loss in Miami in the playoffs last season. Six touchdowns at home equaled the number scored in the first seven home games and 45 points was the most scored by the team since Sept. 7, 1986, when San Diego defeated the Dolphins, 50-28, at home. The Chargers scored on seven of their first nine possessions. Natrone Means scored on runs of one and 65 yards and Anthony Miller caught 41-yard "Hail Mary" pass at the end of the first half to help give San Diego a 24-13 lead. Darren Carrington made two first-half interceptions which led to 10 points. San Diego took a 31-13 lead when Ronnie Harmon scored on a 21-yard touchdown pass from Stan Humphries on the opening drive of the half. A Donald Frank interception led to another score. The Chargers had 459 yards of total offense and were successful in converting 10 of their 14 third-down attempts, the team's best third-down percentage since 1982.
